

Except for (1 Answers)

Everyone had fun EXCEPT (FOR) me!

Except (for) is used when you want to talk about a whole group minus 1 or a few members

Everyone at the party had fun except for me. This means that all of the people at the party had fun, but I didn't.

Rewrite these sentences using except for:

ex.) I like all sushi, but not crab brains.

I like all sushi except for crab brains .

1. It rained every day last week, but not on Tuesday.

It rained every day last week except for Tuesday .

2. Naoki passed all of his exams, but he couldn't pass English.

Naoki passed all of his exams except for English .

3. All of Zack's friends came to his party, but Kim and Sue couldn't.

All of Zack's friends came to his party except for Kim and Sue.

4. Every dish on the menu had meat, but one salad didn't.

Every dish on the menu had meat except for one salad .

5. All my coworkers have the flu, but luckily, I don't.

All my coworkers have the flu except for me .

6. We won every game this season, but lost the championship one.

We won every game this season except for the championship .

7. I really liked the movie, but I hated the ending!

I really liked the movie except for the ending !

8. The tornado destroyed everything. Only the school was OK.

The tornado destroyed everything except for the school .

9. Lisa's visited every continent, but hasn't been to Antarctica.

Lisa's visited every continent except for Antarctica .

10. I have read all of King's books, but not his newest one.

I have read all of King's books except for his newest one .

11. Bob loves all music, but he doesn't like classical music.

Bob loves all music except for classical music .

12. Gina likes all of her coworkers, but not Dan. He's not friendly.

Gina likes all of her coworkers except for Dan. He's not friendly.

13. Pauline cooked the whole Christmas dinner, but bought the dessert.

Pauline cooked the whole Christmas dinner except for the dessert.

14. This 1957 Chevy is all original. Only the paint job is new.

This 1957 Chevy is all original except for the paint job .