

I won 1 YEAR'S WORTH OF free English lessons!

This sheet deals with explaining that there's enough of something to equal/remain/continue a certain amount of something else (time, etc.)

So, "One year's worth of free English lessons" means that there is enough free English lessons to equal/continue one year.

**Remember that the "amount" must be like this: one year's...
for single "amounts" and 2,3,4... dollars ... for plurals!

Rewrite the sentences by changing the underlined phrases into ..worth of..

ex.) My mean boss gave me enough work for ten people today!!

My mean boss gave me ten people's worth of work today!!

1. Can I have enough gas to equal $40 please?
_____
2. Americans buy enough groceries for a week when shopping.
_____
3. Lucy bought enough cloth to make 3 dresses.
_____
4. Mom cooked enough food for an army for Christmas dinner.
_____
5. Bob's iPod holds enough songs for 1000 hours!
_____
6. Enough water to equal 100,000 tons was sent to typhoon areas.
_____
7. Sherry brought enough clothes for a week on our 2-day trip.
_____
8. There are enough supplies for 5 days in the emergency kit.
_____
9. The storm dropped enough snow for a month in just one day!
_____
10. We bought enough Halloween candy to equal $100.
_____
11. I ordered enough caviar to equal 1000g for the B-day party.
_____
12. Julie won enough free diapers for 2 years when she had triplets.
_____
13. Can I have enough potato salad to equal 900g?
_____